WALLACE FACES INTEGRATION HEARING

Withdrawal of Troops From Germany Seen

4,000 U.S. Soldiers Expected Home Before End of 1963

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is expected to bring an armored cavalry regiment — about 3,000 or 4,000 men — back from Europe before the end of the year.

This would cut from four to three the number of tank-equipped armored cavalry regiments in West Germany.

Their mission is to operate as a screen along the Iron Curtain, to contest any invading Soviet force and delay it until the rest of the U.S. 7th Army and Allied units move into position.

During the Berlin crisis buildup nearly two years ago, the United States sent an additional armored cavalry regiment—the 3rd from Ft. Meade, Md.—to Germany.

It is not certain whether the 3rd or one of the other regiments will be brought home.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said repeatedly that the United States does not plan to reduce its combat strength in Europe below a force equivalent to six divisions.

The withdrawal of an armored cavalry regiment would leave five divisions, a brigade in Berlin and three armored cavalry regiments. The Army considers three armored cavalry regiments the equivalent of a division.

The Army shipped more than 40,000 additional men to build up the 7th Army for an anticipated showdown with the Soviets over Berlin in late 1961. Most were rear area elements.

This brought Army strength in Europe to 270,000 men.

Last winter, the Defense Department said about 15,000 of these men had returned to the United States gradually over a period of time. It said there might be "minor personnel adjustments" during this fiscal year.

The gold dollar drain has prompted the Defense Department to look for every possible means of cutting down overseas spending. This has included examination of manpower levels abroad.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, brought up the dollar drain Friday when he asked defense officials about the possibility of bringing back some military men and their dependents from overseas.

Russell, a Georgia Democrat, suggested that the ability of an expanding U.S. military airlift to rush troops to Europe in hours might make it possible to cut the big outlays involved in maintaining U.S. forces at many overseas stations.

Armed Services Group Opposes A-Tests Pact

Mansfield Expects Treaty Passage Despite Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says he still expects overwhelming Senate approval of the limited nuclear test and treaty despite the announced opposition of Chairman Richard B. Russell and some members of his Senate Armed Services Committee.

Russell, a Georgia Democrat, said Friday that "after long and careful study, I find that I cannot conscientiously support this treaty."

The opposition came as no surprise to Mansfield.

Approval by two-thirds of those voting is required for ratification. If all 100 senators vote, at least 67 votes will be needed for approval when the showdown comes after an expected two weeks of debate.

Usually reliable sources said checks indicate the opposition will be unable to rally more than 20 votes.

Russell said he will outline his reasons for opposition during debate starting Monday on the treaty banning nuclear testing except underground.

His announcement followed similar ones from Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the armed forces preparedness investigating subcommittee, and Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a member of the subcommittee and the parent group.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., a member of the full committee, told an interviewer he, too, is inclined to oppose ratification.

"Unless I am presented evidence between now and the time the Senate votes that will allay my fears, I shall vote against the treaty," Byrd said.

Democratic and Republican leaders are expected to work shoulder-to-shoulder for ratification.

The opposition is expected to muster its biggest vote on attempts to write reservations into the treaty which would require renegotiation with the Soviet Union, Great Britain and more than 80 other signers.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., will offer a reservation to postpone the effectiveness of the treaty until the Soviets remove military equipment and personnel from Cuba.

Sen. Russell B. Long D-La., has said he will offer another making clear that under the treaty the United States can use its nuclear weapons at its own choosing in self-defense or the defense of its allies.

Stennis, in a Senate speech, said that closed committee testimony by military and scientific experts convinced him that there is "cause for great concern and alarm about the security implications of the proposed treaty."

He said his subcommittee will provide a report and summary of these hearings before the Senate votes.

300 Students Arrested In S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Saigon combat police dragged off about 300 rock-throwing, jeering children today as a school rebellion swept the city.

Most of those arrested were under 15 years old.

Helmeted police charged into the Vo Truong Toan Boys School and the adjoining Trung Vuong Girls School, dragging students, many carrying their books, into a fleet of army trucks.

Students screamed from windows at American newsmen: "President Kennedy supports Ngo Dinh Diem beating and arresting students."

Children staged noisy anti-government demonstrations in a half dozen other schools, including the Marie Curie and Jean Jacques Rousseau High Schools attended mainly by the children of high ranking civil servants and government officials.

Schools in Saigon reopened Wednesday. They had been closed since last Saturday, when thousands of children tried to demonstrate and were arrested.

No serious casualties were reported in today's outbreak, although some students suffered twisted ankles, cuts and bruises.

Combat police were reinforced by marines, army special forces.

The Girl Scout Council here was dissolved recently because the Salem group was being forced to merge with a larger four-county district. Plans then were considered for reorganizing as Camp Fire Girls.

Miss Dively, a graduate of the University of Washington, did graduate work at the University of Michigan, and makes her home in Grand Rapids, Mich.

She is adviser to Camp Fire Girls councils in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, Michigan and Illinois. As a regional director in the national youth organization she assists and works with councils to develop and strengthen the Camp Fire Girls program in the Great Lakes area.

Local Schedule

Tuesday from 9:15 to 10:45 a.m. Miss Dively will meet with leaders of Bluebird troops, girls, seven and eight years old; and leaders of 4th grade Camp Fire Guardians will meet with her at 1:15 to 2:45 p.m.; 5th and 6th grade Camp Fire Girl leaders will receive instruction at 9:15 to 10:45 a.m. Wednesday, and the Junior High seventh and eighth grade leaders at 1:15 to 2:45 p.m.

Fires In Brazil Leave 250 Dead 300,000 Homeless After Forest Burns

RIO DE JANEIRO Brazil (AP) — At least 250 persons perished and 300,000 were left homeless in a series of wind-whipped fires which raced through tinder-dry pine forests in the Southern state of Parana, reports reaching here today.

Brazilian and U.S. teams rushed firefighters, food and blood plasma to the stricken state, Brazil's most important coffee-producing area.

Gov. Ney Braga, who appealed for outside assistance, said the situation in the drought-plagued state was "much worse than you can imagine."

Forty-nine bodies have been recovered and the death toll probably will go much higher, Col. Italo Cortes, director of the firefighters, reported from Curitiba, the state capital 200 miles Southwest of Sao Paulo.

Many communities in the path of the flames are in remote areas and some settlements are accessible only by air. Firefighters were hampered further by 30-mile-an-hour winds.

Cortes said one fire was brought under control outside Monte Alegre, Brazil's major paper-manufacturing center, but the city of about 30,000 still was in danger.

Cortes said it appeared that only a heavy rain could quell the fires. He said the state has had no soaking rain for eight months.

Dinsio Is Held On $200,000 Bond

Amil A. Dinsio, 27, of Poland, arrested early Friday morning near a Big Bear Store in Columbus, is held under $200,000 in the capital city jail on charges of burglary and forcing entry to a safe.

Authorities were to quiz him in connection with the breaking open of two safes at the chain grocery across from the Ohio State University campus and the theft of merchandise there.

He is already facing indictments in Ohio and West Virginia. Dinsio was nabbed by police who were investigating burglars who used a radio receiver to monitor police calls and walkie-talkies.

Negroes File Restraining Order Suit

Alabama Governor Silent on Plans for Further Maneuvers

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George Wallace was caught today in a new legal crossfire over the closing of Alabama schools facing desegregation.

Resentment and criticism of Wallace's actions mounted, while he kept secret any plans for continuing the long fight against federal court orders.

Wallace ran into these rapid-fire legal developments Friday:

—A federal judge ordered the governor to show why he should not be restrained from interfering with Birmingham schools.

—Negroes filed suit for an order restraining Wallace from blocking desegregation of four Huntsville schools where state troopers enforced a Wallace closing order Friday.

—A federal court hearing was set on a motion by Negro attorneys to force the school board here to reopen the schools which are scheduled to accept five Negroes.

First of the court fights is set for Monday when U.S. Dist. Judge H. H. Grooms will consider the request for a restraining order against Wallace.

Attorneys for 6-year-old Sonny Hereford, Huntsville Negro, asked Grooms to prohibit Wallace from barring the boy from a white school.

Young Hereford and three other Negroes, along with 2,000 white pupils, were turned away from the schools ordered shut down for one day by Wallace.

A Wednesday hearing was set by U.S. Dist. Judge Seybourn H. Lynne on a move for an injunction against the Birmingham school board. Negro attorneys asked that the board be ordered to reopen three schools closed after violence here Wednesday night in which one person was killed and 20 hurt.

Two Negro boys enrolled at a Birmingham elementary school but have not attended any classes. Three other Negroes are to enter two white high schools.

Attorneys for the Negro boys, Dwight and Floyd Armstrong, asked Lynne to issue the show-cause order to Wallace. Lynne set a Thursday hearing.

When Wallace defied court orders last June, Lynne enjoined the governor from physically interfering with desegregation of the University of Alabama. Wallace made a promised doorway stand but yielded to federalized National Guardsmen.

The governor lost his latest legal encounter with Negro attorneys with a ruling by three federal judges that violence or the threat of it is not a basis for closing the Birmingham schools.

This decision was handed down by Judges Walter Gwin of Tuscaloosa, John Minor Wisdom of

2 Double Winners In Miss America Events

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Beauties from Alabama and the District of Columbia held an unprecedented double victory in the talent and swimsuit competition today as the Miss America pageant entered its final stage.

Both Judy Short of Alabama and Rosanne Tueller of the District of Columbia took top honors in the swimsuit and talent competitions which ended Friday night.

Judy, 18, a blonde from Birmingham, played a violin arrangement of "Hava Nagila" on the marimba to capture first honors in the talent division.

Judy, a 5-7½ Birmingham-Southern College freshman whose measurements are 36-22-36½, won the judges' votes in the swimsuit competition Wednesday.

Miss District of Columbia, a 20-year-old Brigham Young University junior with measurements of 35-23½-35, captured swimsuit honors Friday night.

Rosanne, who lives in McLean, Va., won the talent competition Thursday night with a jazzy French interpretive dance of "I Love Paris."

Never in the 37-year history of the pageant had two contestants won both the talent and swimsuit competitions in the preliminary rounds although there have been many times when one girl won both titles.

The last double winner was Nancy Fleming of Michigan, who

Halftime Show At Football Game Adds Luster to Evening

By CAROL CROFT

When Miss Jackie Tilley was crowned football queen at halftime ceremonies during the game between Salem and Cleveland Lincoln Friday, the Salem Senior High School Marching Band members really had to be on their toes.

The aggregation, 77 strong and nattily attired in their scarlet and gray uniforms, saluted Queen Jackie by forming the initial of her first name after she was announced winner.

Since the band did not know which one of the seven candidates would be named to the honor, five different initials had to be learned and drilled throughout

Jokes Around the Samovar--

HOUSING GROUP TO MEET IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The newly formed Ohio Conference for Democracy in Housing will hold a two-day meeting here Oct. 25-26, according to the Rev. Arthur A. Zebbs of Columbus. He said the conference will be featured by a mass rally and demonstration the afternoon of Oct. 26.

Every Christian believes this. If you have given no serious consideration to the Christian Church because "the denominations don't even agree on the facts," hear this again: All Christians believe that men are saved from sin and eternal death by faith in Jesus Christ.

The facts are these. Every man has a bad conscience. God made sure we'd never forget this by giving His Ten Commandments. Who has really loved God with all his heart and strength and mind? Who has really loved his neighbors as himself?

But every sinner has a Savior! God proved His love and made possible His forgiveness when His Son, Jesus Christ, died and rose again. This is the Gospel, "the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth" (Romans 1, 16) When a man learns of God's offer, accepts it as true, and counts on it for his own forgiveness, the Holy Ghost has made him a believer! And he is saved! Everyone who is a Christian believes this!

Everyone who is a Christian does something about it, too. A believer is a different person. He wants to do God's will. He doesn't always manage it, but he tries. A man of faith will be judged on his works of faith.

When danger threatens a baby monkey, it jumps on its mother's back and holds on as she leaps to safety. It would be only a mark of his immaturity for the baby to claim it had been saved by its own efforts, even though it would have been lost without them.

That's what the Lutheran Church means when it says men are saved "by grace alone, by Christ alone, by faith alone."

Every Christian believes this. If you have given no serious consideration to the Christian Church because "the denominations don't even agree on the facts," hear this again: All Christians believe that men are saved from sin and eternal death by faith in Jesus Christ.

The facts are these. Every man has a bad conscience. God made sure we'd never forget this by giving His Ten Commandments. Who has really loved God with all his heart and strength and mind? Who has really loved his neighbors as himself?

But every sinner has a Savior! God proved His love and made possible His forgiveness when His Son, Jesus Christ, died and rose again. This is the Gospel, "the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth" (Romans 1, 16) When a man learns of God's offer, accepts it as true, and counts on it for his own forgiveness, the Holy Ghost has made him a believer! And he is saved! Everyone who is a Christian believes this!

Everyone who is a Christian does something about it, too. A believer is a different person. He wants to do God's will. He doesn't always manage it, but he tries. A man of faith will be judged on his works of faith.

When danger threatens a baby monkey, it jumps on its mother's back and holds on as she leaps to safety. It would be only a mark of his immaturity for the baby to claim it had been saved by its own efforts, even though it would have been lost without them.

That's what the Lutheran Church means when it says men are saved "by grace alone, by Christ alone, by faith alone."

THE CHURCH WITH A GLAD HAND AND A GREAT HEART
"Nursery for babies and pre-school children at both services."

Harold W. Detich, Pastor

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BIG DAY

It's an odd feeling when children start to school. As a parent, you are tremendously proud and excited. But you are also a little afraid.

For the first time, your Johnnie and Susie are going off on their own. Suddenly, they look smaller than they have since they were babies, and you have an irresistible impulse to run after them. But it's too late for that—so you let them go, with a smile on your lips and a fervent prayer in your heart.

Later, when the first rush of emotion passes and reason returns, you laugh at yourself. For the truth is that Johnnie and Susie are exactly where they've always been; in God's care, whether at home, in school, at play, or in church. And, grateful to the Church for this truth, you remind yourself that next Sunday you'll remember to thank God for that care... a little more than usual.

Regret Will Be Too Late!

The image of Soviet Russia's international posture is so indelibly clear that no one would even dare to doubt the selfish motive behind every foreign relations move she makes.

So it is with the limited nuclear test ban treaty. If it were not to Russia's advantage, if she did not feel she could profit by it at the expense of the free world, she never would have consented to the discussions and certainly would not have signed the agreement.

Just what form this advantage will take is a subject for anyone's speculation. But in due course it will be revealed — make no mistake about it — and the U. S. can only hope it will not be in such a defenseless position that the whole balance of power in the world will have changed so radically that we no longer can feel any sense of security.

THE COMMUNIST RECORD of broken promises and scrapped treaties should give us urgent cause to wonder what course the Soviet treachery is likely to take this time.

The Kennedy administration is guessing there will be no treachery this time — that, in fact, the Kremlin means to keep its word. No small measure of his confidence in Soviet intentions must be based on the assumption that Russia can ill afford to wage an ideological war with Red China on the one hand and pursue a cold war with the West on the other.

But what if the ideological war within the Communist camp is a phony, as it very well might be? This could be treachery on the grandest scale in all history.

It is not beyond the Soviet's capacity for deception to cultivate a delusion of bitterness with Peiping and all the while promote, encourage and abet the development and testing of atomic weapons in Red China, which already has indicated it would be no party to any test ban treaty.

Russia then could hold up its hands in complete innocence and, paraphrasing the youth with the new-found talent for "no-hands" bicycling, say: "Look, world, no responsibility!"

IT IS QUITE CLEAR now that the Senate has the votes to ratify the test-ban treaty. But in defense of those who will vote to disapprove, it should be pointed out that the testimony has been far from one-sided.

It is significant that a rather impressive lineup of former top military men just questioned the wisdom of entering into any such treaty with the Russians.

Since military men often disagree as individuals but seldom as groups, this leads us to wonder just how much political pressure has been brought to bear on the present Joint Chiefs, who serve at the will of the President, to give their blessing.

Only one or two spoke out openly against the treaty but it was our impression that almost all of them were reluctant and grudging in their support.

NO ONE CAN KNOW for sure what the ultimate outcome will be. We can only hope for the best — but while hoping, the United States would do well to assume a suspiciously cautious stance.

Regret will be too late!

All of a Sudden Sensitive

The harsh word echoing back from South Viet Nam, which U.S. taxpayers have been sinking money into at the rate of a half-billion dollars a year, is that the government there has no intention of trying to make itself pleasing to our President Kennedy on the touchy issue of Buddhist persecution. It will take our money but not our advice.

It will continue to push Buddhists around as it pleases. And why shouldn't it? When did the United States become so sensitive about governments that push around minorities?

As far as the reigning lights in Saigon can see, precedent is in their favor. For years, Washington was complacent about people being pushed around in the Dominican Republic by the dictator Trujillo. It backed him because he was anti-Communist, which is what the government in South Viet Nam says it is.

Washington stood by a brutalitarian regime in Cuba because its president, Batista, said he was anti-Communist — until Batista's excesses generated a revolution and gave the Cuban a new dictator named Castro, a Communist.

It gets along with a bully-boy government in Spain because it's against Communists and even cuddles up to a regime in Yugoslavia which is Communist to the core but periodically says it is anti-Moscow.

Even at home, any institution or individual that says often enough and loud enough it's anti-Communist can be anything else it wants to be and no questions asked. Only in South Viet Nam are there strong objections to being anti-humanitarian as well as anti-Communist.

What makes Buddhism so special?

They Came to Play By Truman Twill

Football isn't what it used to be. It's so much better there's no comparison. If movies had been taken of the games of the past, they would be good for nothing but belly-laughs.

Football used to be a crowd of clowns mucking around in mud half the season and gasping in a cloud of dust the other half.

They were ill-clothed, ill-equipped and ill-coached. Most of the time they had nothing in mind more constructive than charging straight ahead if their side had the ball and stopping the enemy if the other side had the ball.

IT WAS A some-weapon-barred warfare between cronic belligerents, and at its best it was a joust between knights seeking the plaudits of their ladies fair.

The gate take was unimportant. If some of the players in the larger universities were being paid off in peanuts, no one worried. Football was not a career. It was an experience.

Boys who played football in school and the men who played it semi-professionally were chance-takers-madcaps who were so eager to give and take bumps and bruises that they cheerfully risked broken bones and permanent injury.

A game reached its climax when the heroes ripped off their helmets and threw them to the sidelines. That meant the knight was made clean through and was throwing caution to the winds. A roar went up from the spectators. This was what they came to see.

Football was not so much an exhibition of skill and proficiency as a demonstration of courage and endurance. The players who started a game were expected to finish it, unless they were unable to arise after a scrimmage.

It was assumed as a general rule that anyone who was mentally adapted to the ordeal had a screw loose and, if he was good at the game that he was minus some buttons.

MOST OLD-TIME football players, it is pointed out by modern experts, couldn't make the squad, let alone the varsity, now that the game has been converted into a demonstration of skill and scientific application of leverage and thrust. Probably so.

But shed no tears about it. Old-time football players would not care for the new kind of football. They would be as ill at ease as lumberjacks in a reforestation project.

As the saying used to be, "They came to play." They were strictly unsentimental about the whole thing. But, man, did they have a romp.

Didn't we?

"Just think, dad . . . if you had been a Hollywood star, I'd have had it made by now!"

Punishment of Guilty Only Way to Repress Crime

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Just three days before the march on Washington—which was widely praised as orderly—the people of the City of Washington

David Lawrence was that the young man was robbed and killed while walking his dog late at night near his home. An automobile was heard speeding away from the scene.

This tragic occurrence shocked the community. It depressed everybody who knew the brilliant young man. He was a graduate of Princeton, had done post-graduate work at Yale, and was writing his thesis for a doctorate.

Now it turns out young Ellison was shot down by five young Negroes, armed with two pistols, who were cruising about in a stolen automobile, looking for victims to rob.

The episode points to the plight of the people in the national capital, who see plenty of troops and battalions of police mobilized to take care of a parade, and wonder why the lives of people in the community are not similarly protected day in and day out.

Official figures show that the City of Washington has the largest number of aggravated assaults per capita of any city in the country.

It so happens that the suspects were apprehended when four of them—again in a stolen car—had been chased by police after going through a red light. One of their number thought they were being pursued for the murder of young Ellison and promptly confessed.

All of the suspects have criminal records, which now have been revealed. One had been arrested six times since early 1962 on charges including housebreaking, unlawful entry, petty larceny, possession of a prohibited weapon (knife) and on three counts of assault with a deadly weapon, in one of which the victim was bitten.

ANOTHER of the Negroes has a record of four charges of assault, a purse-snatching, housebreaking, unlawful entry and two counts of destroying movable property.

A third Negro, according to the records, had been charged with tampering with an auto in 1961 and had been arrested also on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The previous police records of the other two were not disclosed. They are under 18 years of age, and there's a question as to what will be done to them because they are juveniles.

This is a much-debated subject in Washington and elsewhere, because a good deal of leniency is shown to juveniles.

Judge Robert Gardner of the Superior Court of Orange County in California, wrote an article in the August 1963 issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, in which he pointed out the tendency of juvenile courts to put the "sophisticated young criminals" in the same category as juveniles who are "dependent or neglected" children.

He added: "It is submitted that treating such an offender as a misunderstood child merely because of the short time which has elapsed between birth and crime is completely unrealistic. It is an incontrovertible fact that chronological age is no indication of the experience factor. Handling all persons under 18 years of age as naughty children is ridiculous."

THE CRIME WAVE in America is emphasized again and again in the reports by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Some startling figures have been published. Here are some of them:

1. Crimes by youth have been growing fast. In 1962 arrests of youths under the age of 18 increased by 9 per cent. These youths accounted for 62 per cent of all auto thefts, 51 per cent of all larcenies, 49 per cent of all burglaries, 29 per cent of all robberies, 19 per cent of all forcible rapes, 13 per cent of all aggravated assaults and 8 per cent of all murders and non-negligent manslaughter cases.

2. Bank robberies have almost tripled in six years. They have gone from 450 in 1956 to 1,250 in 1962.

3. Embezzlements have nearly doubled since 1956. They were

1,270 in 1956 and 2,257 in 1962. 4. Robberies are up 15 per cent since 1958. There were 82,500 five years ago, and last year there were 95,200.

Among the 20 largest cities in the country, Washington heads the list in assaults while Chicago, heads the list in robberies. The percentages are high everywhere in the North as well as in the South.

What will be done about it? Certainly the march on Washington gave the impression to the country that all is well with the relations between the races and that the police can handle any situation that may threaten disorder in Washington. But the crime situation has not been handled effectively.

THERE ARE no signs that any progress is really being made because there are certain impediments. One of them is the leniency of the courts, particularly since the Supreme Court of the United States has rendered a decision which makes it possible for a criminal to escape punishment if his attorney pleads that he had not been promptly arraigned.

Other technicalities in court decisions are cited as having interfered with the punishment of guilty persons. These could be remedied by law.

The police are frustrated. Many of the criminals know what their legal rights are and manage to take advantage of them. Sooner or later, the American people will demand that the Congress of the United States, the State Legislatures and the local governments join together in taking measures to repress crime by the only method that has ever been successful—namely, the punishment of the guilty as an example to others.

Red Strategy In Brazil

By VICTOR RIESEL

It can be revealed — and should be disclosed now — that American intelligence services have discovered the newest Communist strategy for speeding revolutionary activities in Brazil through a series of general strikes. One of these mass stoppages will be a crash maneuver to seize all control of unions handling gasoline and oil fuel supplies. Then the various Communist juntas will be in a position to paralyze that vast land. If the drive succeeds, the Communists will force the Brazilian government to include them in the cabinet. Even if it fails, the United States will lose millions of dollars now being pumped into the skidding Brazilian economy.

When in Sao Paulo and Rio, I was briefed on this Communist strategy. I was alerted to watch for a series of strikes in the vital port of Santos, which I visited immediately.

THOSE WATERFRONT strikes on piers which must remain unclogged if Brazil is not to strangle have begun. In the past few weeks, these Communist-run stoppages have tied up 159 big freighters. The walkouts have cost Brazil, which is asking the United States for millions of dollars in quick aid, scores of millions of dollars.

At one point last week 104 vessels carrying needed supplies and machinery to the "A.B.C." industrial belt around the huge city of Sao Paulo were idle and unloaded. Unless their holds are empty, they cannot take on Brazilian exports, including 40 per cent of its coffee.

The Santos-Jundiai Railway ceased operations. Trucks were idle. All transport of gasoline and fuel oil was immobilized.

The Communist-controlled waterfront unions need no real cause for a strike. I have reports of a recent stoppage called by a flying squad 15 minutes after the police arrested one stevedore for pilfering. The entire port of Santos went dead.

In mid-August a dock strike was called because the shippers balked when the left-wing labor leaders demanded a 1962 Christmas bonus for their men. Fifty-five ships were tied up.

THE LATEST walkout was called in support of striking hospital workers. There will be other walkouts in this key port, upon which so much of South American prosperity depends — but which is so little known in the United States because it is so far off.

In addition to Communist efforts to paralyze the Santos waterfront, the unions use these walkouts to pressure the non-Communist gas and oil distribution workers' union. This is one of the few labor organizations still fighting the Moscow-Havana-oriented labor federations.

The pro-Communists control the gas and petroleum refineries which are owned by the Brazilian government corporation known as Petrobras. But the distributive facilities still are in private hands.

The Communists are able to win influence in unions covering federal operations because powerful elements in the Brazilian government encourage and support them. But the private companies do not pressure the unions at their plants into permitting Communists to take over!

So the Communists who now control the union of government oil workers plan a general strike in the refining fields.

THEY EXPECT to disrupt transport and production throughout Brazil so completely that they will be able to convince the government to yield to their demands—which will include the nationalization of the entire oil industry.

This would cover gas and fuel oil distribution. Then the Communists, with the aid of the government, would simply merge both unions and control all movement as well as refining of petroleum products.

The shipping strikes in Santos are part of the rehearsal and preparations for the general strike in the fuel industry.

Yet they could be stopped by the Ministry of Labor, Industry and Commerce. It is all set down in Chapter Seven of the labor code, which is on my desk.

The Labor Minister Amauri Silva, has the power to limit the geographic jurisdiction of all unions. He can take the strike leaders into special courts. He can order the strike to stop immediately—and if disobeyed he can suspend the union chiefs for two to five years.

LITTLE LIZ

Seniority is something you're for if you have it and against it if you don't.

If the strike was voted at a membership meeting, he can put the union out of existence by revoking its charter.

When I was in Brazil last month there were costly strikes — yet at that moment the United States gave $11 million in foreign aid to Brazil for special projects.

Why, then, is President Joao Goulart's administration permitting left-wing strikes which cripple his country while we pour in vast sums?

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

aren't the least bit funny.

When she talks, she laughs at the end of almost every sentence. Why does she do this? I mentioned it to my mother and she says one of her friends does the same thing. She can't figure it out either. Can you?

THE QUESTIONER:

Dear Questioner: Sometimes people laugh because they are self-conscious. Laughter releases tension.

In the case of your friend, and probably your mother's friend, too, the laughter may not have anything to do with humor. Once you understand this makes "senseless" laughter easier to tolerate.

The 'Nos' Have It

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 18 who was graduated from high school last spring. My father will send me to the local teacher's college if I want to go. I can't make up my mind. Please help.

I started to go with this fellow five months ago. He is 26, and has three small children. His wife died last year. He's a very nice person and we get along well together but I don't know if I am able to be a mother to his three children. They are all spoiled because their grandparents have catered to their every whim since their mother died. To be honest, I think I'd die. To be full.

My parents have not tried to influence me one way or the other. I think I'm writing to you because I want you to tell me, "DON'T MARRY HIM." What does this sound like to you?—DON'T KNOW MY OWN MIND.

Dear Don't Know: This is indeed what you want to hear, so I am telling you.

Your lack of enthusiasm is pretty obvious and the questions you raise are valid ones.

If you wish to continue to see this man, along with others, I see no reason why you should not. But marriage at this time —no.

Dear Ann Landers: Last Saturday night I had a date with Chuck. I've known him for a long time but it was only hello and goodbye. When he asked me to this dance I was quite surprised.

I'm not the greatest dancer in the world, but then neither is Chuck. When the band came out with the Bosa Nova I was stumped because I'm not up on that stuff. I stumbled a little and Chuck said, "Holy Cow, will you please try to follow me?" I tried but couldn't get the hang of it. It was pretty gruesome.

Then we passed a mirror and I saw Chuck signaling a guy in the stag line to take me off his hands. Chuck held up two fingers. In a few minutes Petey came over and cut in.

The next day I found out from Petey's sister that Chuck had paid Petey two bucks to "save his life." I'm so mad I can't see straight. What should I do?—WENDY.

Dear Wendy: Send Chuck one dollar in an envelope and tell him you don't think it's fair that he should stand the total cost of the cut-in — because you were just as happy to see

"FLYING BATHTUB" — Wingless M-2 cuts loose from mother plane, below at 10,000 feet, for a long glide back to earth at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The "flying bathtub," under test by National Aeronautics and Space Administration, might offer a way for astronauts to plane back to earth. Rounded belly of the craft gives it the "lift" usually provided by conventional wings.

30 Days to Better Grades

Outlines Cut Study Time

By The Reading Laboratory

Let's set the stage for this article. You're home and ready to study. You have a page of main-idea lecture notes from the morning's class. You have a textbook open to the chapter that applies to the lecture. You have a clean notebook and a pencil. You're alert, bright-eyed, bushy-tailed and rarin' to get started. So what do you do?

You could give it all up as a bad job and watch television, but that would be the coward's way out.

Or you could combine your lecture notes and the textbook chapter into a single, coherent outline. Making outlines is sometimes more work than watching television, but always results in better grades.

IN THE LONG RUN, working from outlines is far less work than any other method of studying. When tests roll around, you need only study your notebook. If there's anything in your outline that doesn't make sense, you can always refer to your text. But you'll never have to read the whole textbook through. And if you outline what you're sure of knowing it.

Here's a step-by-step procedure notes with your textbook: Overview the pertinent chapter before the lecture.

Take lecture notes on main ideas, or on little tidbits that the teacher is particularly fond of. Take notes only on material that is not in the text.

Reread lecture notes that evening.

RESURVEY TEXT— again just for the main idea.

Begin a main idea outline that combines the lecture and text notes. Don't be afraid of mixing the two together.

After starting the outline, begin to "survey and resurvey" the textbook chapter to find the subordinate ideas and consolidate your grasp of the main ideas. Read the bold print, the maps, the graphs, the first sentence of each paragraph. Then skim through the body of the text.

starring the important secondary ideas. (It's best to make marginal notes; for example, "I" for an important idea, "II" for a very important one, and "III" for absolutely crucial ideas.)

Incorporate the starred ideas into your outline—put them into their proper places under the main ideas you noted from the lecture and the textbook.

THE BEAUTY OF THIS system is that you have to study a chapter only once. Once you've constructed a running outline of the lectures and the textbook, the subject matter is yours. There'll be no frantic cramming before a test; you'll have to look through only your notebook. The amount of reading time you'll save will be enormous.

Outlining will be a fairly easy job if you follow two simple rules:

use key words instead of long, windy sentences; don't try to put every little detail in your outline.

In other words, keep your outlines as short as possible. Don't spend hours rewriting the textbook. Your outlines should be a memory cue that will help you remember the material. Short, quick, to-the-point outlines are the easiest to make, the easiest to study and the most useful.

Marion Boehm Becomes Bride of William McNeal

At an evening wedding last Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church of Lisbon, Miss Marion Lee Boehm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Orren Boehm of RD 4, Lisbon became the bride of William Edgar McNeal, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. McNeal Sr. of W. Pine St., Lisbon.

Rev. Paul T. Gerrard performed the double ring ceremony, at 7:30 p.m. before an altar enhanced by ferns, baskets of yellow gladioli and white pom poms, lighted on either side by three branch candelabra. James Kennedy of Lisbon presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted to the altar by her father. Her gown of imported silk organza, fashioned with a sabrina neckline, had lace applique on the long tapered sleeves and midriff.

The long skirt was designed with a sheer apron overskirt which gathered to the back waistline and was held by large cabbage roses. Cascading ruffles of organza, at the back skirt, fell into a chapel train. A crown of pearls and crystal tapers held her veil of silk illusion. She carried the bridegroom's gift, a white Bible, topped by white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Karen Boehm was maid of honor for her sister. Her gown of pastel green satin featured a scoop neckline, elbow-length sleeves and a bell-shaped skirt. She wore a matching Dior bow hat and carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

Thomas Lee McNeal served as his brothers best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue silk over taffeta dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose an ensemble of beige brocade with brown accessories. Each ensemble was complemented by yellow rose bud corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social room. The bride's table, lighted by white tapers in crystal, was overlaid in white lace and white four-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. An overhead arch of green and yellow with a white wedding bell in the center, was the setting of the gift table.

Presiding were Miss Nancy Evans, Mrs. Kenneth McNeal and Mrs. Iris Horner, the latter two cousins of the bridegroom. Miss Florence McNeal, Mrs. Wayne Kirkbride of Salem, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Orina Boehm sister of the bride, assisted at the reception, wearing

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Heloise: We used pompons, made of your ever-useful nylon net as favors for a big luncheon honoring officers of different clubs in our city.

These were made of various types of pastel-colored net with a perky little flower in each one. They really were beautiful on our tables, and we received many compliments.

About six of the committee made more than 50 of these pompons in a couple of hours and we had something useful as well as ornamental. Thanks for all of the "wifesavers" you are always giving.

MARY COMELLA.

LADIES: Buy nylon net, cut it in four inch strips as long as you want it. Gather down the middle (I find a heavy string best) and tie it until it looks like a pompon. This is wonderful for scrubbing pots and pans that mashed potatoes, rice, etc., are cooked in. They never sour and never get sticky.

One woman wrote that at a ladies' luncheon club they had a Heloise centerpiece! This was composed of 75 different colored pompons. After the luncheon was over each woman went home with a pompon. The centerpiece took the place of flowers. They used the money they ordinarily would have spent on flowers to buy the net. Quite attractive, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I wash my husband's work pants I hang them out first to damp dry. When I finish hanging out the rest of the laundry I put the pants on stretchers—holding them up to the light to get the leg seams together perfectly.

Then I hang them back on the line, pinning them at the waist and turn the garden hose on them real hard... being sure to fill the pockets with water. The weight of the water running down pulls out all the wrinkles. I haven't put an iron on work pants for 24 years.

A.G.

Now isn't she a corker to think to fill the pockets with water? You are a doll, A.G. Heloise.

DEAR HELOISE: I am a beautician and would like to tell housewives how to preserve a manicure:

Keep a fresh bottle of clear polish on hand at all times and put a fresh coat on every few days. A thin coat will suffice. Be sure to extend the clear polish to the edge of the nail and under the nail a bit to add to the life of the manicure.

Vi CLARK.

DEAR HELOISE: Round toothpicks make effective skewers when closing the opening of stuffed chickens. The picks are easy to insert and don't rust. Just push the picks through both sides of the opening and secure by lacing together with thread or dental floss.

MYRA NOVICK.

DEAR HELOISE We put our bath mats and rubber sink mats right into our automatic washing machine, add a few bath towels and they come out sweet and clean.

We are owners of a spanking new 40-unit motel and are 100 per cent sanitary. A big time-saver is mixing the bath towels with the mats and we have found it does not hurt the life of the mats.

MARY JANE RINERULD.

The roughness of the towels rubs against the rubber mats and scours away the soil. It's wonderful.

HELOISE.

Lisbon Rolls Over Carrollton 28-6 For Inaugural Win

Salem Triumphs 18-14 In Thrilling Opener

Begalla Scores 3 Touchdowns

Lincoln Rallies Late With Passing Attack

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

There was plenty of exciting action as the Salem High School Quakers, behind the three touchdown blasts of fullback George Begalla, knocked off Cleveland Lincoln 18-14 in the seasons football opener at Reilly Stadium Friday night.

Late in the clash, the Presidents started clicking with an aerial attack and got one more chance to display the passing game with only 18 seconds remaining in the final frame.

"It is hard to single out anyone in this type of a game, this was definitely a team effort," commented Don Clarico, Salem's new grid coach.

"We have installed a new rotation system for pass protection which the boys are having trouble learning," said the Quaker mentor.

EXCITEMENT FIRST mounted when Joe Rottenborn, a sophomore starting at quarterback, and the first time Salem got the football, he directed a drive from the Quaker 46 to the Lincoln 25. A 15-yard clipping bogged down the initial thrust, however.

After an eight-play Lincoln drive was halted by the strong Red and Black defense on Lincoln's 41, Jack Braun, 140-lb. halfback, punted for the visitors and Salem halfback Bob Mellinger received the ball on his own 31 and returned it to the 36.

Begalla ram-rodded his way through the middle of the Presidents' line for six and Dyer Scott, 160-lb. halfback picked up five in two charges for a first down.

Larry Earley, 168-lb. senior quarterback, suffering from an earlier groin injury, then connected with halfback Mike DeRienzo on a perfectly executed pass play for 43 yards and a first down on the losers' 10.

Early picked up a yard on a sneak, Scott made seven in two rushes, and Begalla plunged the final two for the first touchdown of the contest. Earley, back to pass for the extra points, was dropped before he could get the aerial off.

SALEM CONTROLLED the ball during the first half. From 1:10 of the first quarter until halftime Lincoln only had the pigskin two minutes and 12 seconds.

Coach Clarico, making his debut as a Class AA coach last night had the Quakers stick to ground plays for the second touchdown.

Begalla got the 14-play TD drive underway with 7:01 to go in the second stanza and he plunged over three yards out with only 17 seconds remaining in the half.

Scott, DeRienzo and Begalla shared the ball carrying duties during the march from Salem's own 19 to an 81-yard touchdown. A run attempt for the extra points failed.

A FUMBLE, ONE of five by Salem, gave Lincoln a big break to begin the third period on the Quakers 36. Five plays later Cleveland halfback Ken Zaleski found a huge hole in the right side of his line and dashed 26 yards for a touchdown. Fullback Mike Perciadeo made the two-point conversion on a plunge.

Lincoln tried an 'on-side' kickoff following its TD, but the surprise tactic backfired as Begalla hauled in the football on his own 40 and returned it to the 46.

It took the Red and Black 12 plays to reach paydirt, with Begalla scoring again. A big hole in the middle of the line was opened for the 209-lb. fullback and he scooted into the endzone to give Salem an 18-8 margin.

Lincoln still had a few tricks left and the fired-up visitors went to the air with 7:21 of the fourth frame and the aerial action paid off in a TD.

Sophomore quarterback Frank Basso connected twice during the drive on pass plays of 41 and 23 to end Ray Grube. Zaleski then swept his own left end for a six-yard touchdown to cut the deficit to 18-14.

AFTER THE KICKOFF Cody Goard, 160-lb. Salem halfback, brought the fans, to their feet, when he almost broke loose for the Quakers. He pranced 31 yards to the Lincoln 32. Begalla picked up five then a fumble gave the visitors of Coach Lou Sawchik another chance, on the Quakers' 28.

Basso immediately went to the air lanes and hit Grube with a 29-yard toss, and it was a first down at the Salem 43. With 18 seconds still left, Basso hit Perciadeo with a two-yard aerial and that was it.

Coach Clarico, reluctant to choose any one player as outstanding, did manage to point out the work of line backer Chuck Joseph whom he felt did a tremendous job.

He was also pleased with Begalla. DeRienzo, and the defensive team for containing the Lincoln running attack. The Presidents were held to 103 yards in 29 rushing attempts.

Through the air, Lincoln completed four of eight for 102 yards.

BEGALLA WAS THE workhorse of the contest. He lugged the pigskin 17 times for 106 yards. He also did a terrific job defensively. Zaleski led the Lincoln ball carriers picking up 75 yards in 14 rushes.

Down through the years, Salem has held a long-standing tradition for winning the season opener. Not since 1955 have the Quakers dropped one, with a streak of eight straight now going.

Many of the fans, a large Salem crowd, were pleased with the Quakers' performance. "It is the most exciting start I have ever watched in the 20 years I have been coming here," said one home town fan.

A home town penalty nullified a 60-yard punt return for a touchdown by Zaleski early in the fourth frame.

PERFECTIONIST SPAHN

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "Sitting on the same side with Warren Spahn makes me appreciate what a perfectionist he is," says Milwaukee manager Bobby Bragan of baseball's winningest left hander.

"Out in Los Angeles he was leading 1-0 late in the game. He had stopped Moose Skowron twice pitching him outside. He wondered if he could chance pitching him inside. I didn't know, but Spahn figured that Skowron would be looking for the ball away again."

"You can pitch him inside if you keep the ball down," Jo Jo White told him. Spahn pitched perfectly at the knees, inside, and Skowron hit a nice big hopper to shortstop."

Two Contests Open AFL Season Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tight races in both divisions are the prospect as the American Football League fires the opening gun for its fourth season tonight.

Two games are on the schedule, Kansas City's defending AFL champion Chiefs against the Broncos at Denver and the Oakland Raiders against the Oilers at Houston.

The first weekend of the season will be completed Sunday with the Buffalo Bills playing the Chargers at San Diego and the rebuilt New York Jets taking on the Patriots at Boston.

The Chiefs—then the Dallas Texans—dethroned Houston last year in one of football's historic games, winning 20-17 on Tommy Brooker 25-yard field goal at 17 minutes.

54 seconds of sudden-death overtime. The Oilers were shooting for their third straight league championship.

Kansas City is expected to get a stiff challenge for the Western title, notably from the Chargers, who won the division crown the first two seasons. Both other clubs in the West, Denver and Oakland, probably will be improved over 1962.

Houston and Buffalo should fight it out for the Eastern championship, with Boston and New York rated the league's weak sisters.

The Chiefs have gone 6-for-6 against the Broncos in regular season play but go into tonight's opener at Denver hampered by injuries. Two prize guards, veteran Al Reynolds and rookie Ed Budde, and rookie flanker Stone Johnson are out of action.

Wellsville Is 31-6 Loser To Beaver, Pa.

Beaver, Pa., handed Wellsville a 31-6 setback in the initial football game for both schools at the Bengal's stadium last night before 2,400 fans.

An Oct. 18 Salem opponent, Wellsville fell behind 18-0 by interception in the fourth frame. Daniel plunged one yard for the losers' touchdown.

Bell led the Beaver unit to its 31st win in a row with touchdowns runs of 55 and two yards.

Ammon raced nine yards, Chimley plunged a yard and Bender dashed 21 for Beaver's other TD's.

Former major league outfielder Al Zarilla is now a scout for the Cincinnati Reds in California.

Osuna Meets McKinley In Tennis Match

By WILL GRIMSLEY
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) —

"We Latins have taken over this silly game," Mexico's Rafael Osuna said with a wink. "I think I'll win the tournament."

Osuna and his bristling confidence form the next-to-last obstacle for favored Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., in the latter's bid to add the U.S. National Tennis championship to his Wimbledon crown.

They meet today in the featured men's semifinal at the West Side Tennis Club with the other match pitting 6-foot-3 Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., against another Latin, Ronnie Barnes of Brazil.

A third South American, Maria Bueno of Brazil, assumed a menacing role in the women's division, which turned into an all-foreign affair with the elimination of second-seeded Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and Nancy Richey of Dallas.

Miss Bueno, looking like the court-killer of three years ago before she was stricken with hepatitis, plays England's Ann Haydon Jones in one semifinal while Margaret Smith of Australia, the top-seeded favorite, goes against unseeded Deirdre Catt in the other.

The finals are scheduled for Sunday.

Mrs. Jones put out a lethargic Miss Hard, 6-4, 6-3 and Miss Bueno won over outgunned Miss Richey 6-3, 6-2. Tall, talented Miss Smith, holder of the Australian and Wimbledon titles, and the tiny Miss Catt advanced Thursday.

McKinley fought off one match point and rallied from 0-3 in the final set in achieving a pulsating 6-4, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4 triumph over 18-year-old Tom Koch of Brazil.

Osuna, playing in spikes borrowed from McKinley, won over Martin Riessen, U.S. Davis Cup team member from Evanston, Ill., 3-6, 9-7, 6-3, 6-3.

Sebring Dumps McDonald 26-8

Bailey, Henderson Each Score Twice

Halfback Cecil Bailey and fullback Neil Henderson each tallied two TDs as the Sebring Trojans rolled over the McDonald Blue Devils 26-8 at Sebring Friday night.

The victors scored all their touchdowns before letting McDonald break into the scoring column late in the final stanza.

Bailey opened scoring early in the game as he banged off tackle for five yards with quarterback Roger Snyder adding the bonus points on a keeper play.

Henderson's first score came in the second canto as he boomed over from the two-yard stripe on a trap play. A run for the extra points failed.

Taking turns with Henderson in the scoring department, Bailey came back in the third period with a two-yard score of his own. To garner his second score Bailey was forced outside and smashed over just inside the boundary line.

Brute strength accounted for Henderson's last score and the final one for his team. The talented fullback was hit behind the line on a power play, but shook off the would-be tacklers and zipped into the end zone standing up.

Failing to get anything going on the ground, McDonald went to the air and scored its lone tally on a 45-yard aerial from quarterback Chuck Dolfak to right end Al Ramsey. Dolfak toted the ball over for the extra points.

In gaining the victory, Sebring kept primarily to the ground after several passes went incomplete.

McDonald returns to action Friday entertaining Jackson-Milton while the Trojans are on the road at North Lima, also on Friday.

Thornton Favored In Fight Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Irish Wayne Thornton risks his No. 4 rating among the light heavyweight boxing challengers tonight against Argentine champion Jose Menno, a rugged puncher he already has beaten once.

It would appear Thornton accepted a fight where he has everything to lose and nothing to gain since the Argentine isn't ranked among the top ten and could pull an upset.

Thornton figures a convincing victory in this nationally televised (ABC) bout at Kezar Pavilion will vault him into a title shot against Willie Pastrano, a familiar playmate.

Before Willie the Wisp beat Harold Johnson for the title, he and the Fresno, Calif., body belt-battled three times.

A 2-1 favorite, Thornton has won 28 fights, lost three and fought one draw. He has kayed 18 opponents. Menno has stopped seven.

They go into the ring at 9 p.m. EST for their 10 rounder.

Canfield Rolls 32-0 Over E. Palestine

Canfield's Cardinals got their 1963 grid campaign off to an impressive start as they blanked East Palestine's Bulldogs 32-0 Friday night on the losers' field.

The Cardinals had too much of everything as they jumped to a 6-0 lead in the first period and were never threatened. The winners added another tally in the second, two in the third and one more in the fourth.

Right halfback Randy McPhee put the first tally across as he scampered around right end for 23 yards. A run for the extra points failed.

End Jeff Cummings scored the victors' second TD, taking a 15-yard aerial from quarterback Mike Crosser. Halfback Joe Arnoto banged across for the extra points and the Cardinals were ahead 14-0 as the teams entered the dressing room at halftime.

Canfield didn't let up in the third canto. Their stingy defensive unit held the Bulldogs deep in their own territory and Dave Evans took a punt and twisted his way for 46 yards and a score. Once again the try for extra points was fruitless.

Another Crosser - to - Cummings pass, this one a 46-yard effort, paid off with a TD. Canfield, which apparently had no trouble getting TDs, did find it hard getting points-after as the Bulldog defense stiffened and the run for the bonus points failed.

Reserve quarterback Jim Rhiel got the final tally, plunging for two yards. The attempt for extra points was futile.

Canfield will be at home to the Poland Bulldogs of the Tri-County League on Saturday while West Branch will be at East Palestine on Friday.

Coach Glenn Sutherland's Minerva Lions scored seven TDs and had two more called back as they posted a decisive 48-0 victory over Newton Falls Friday on the losers' field.

Cleveland Browns Face Steelers In NFL Hall Of Fame Dedication

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns are nearly at regular season strength as they get set for Sunday's exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Steelers, part of the dedicating festivities for the Professional Football Hall of Fame.

Guard Ted Connolly, obtained from the San Francisco 49ers, will be put on the active roster when he is physically ready to play. He started working out Friday.

Rookies Goosby & McNeil both have signed contracts with the Browns and will continue to work out with the team with an eye toward next season. Others in this category are quarterback Jon Anabo and defensive halfback Walter Beach.

Twins' Home Run Power Nips Chisox 8-7; Yankees Roll

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota's Twins are moving on home run muscle.

But they can't gain ground on the New York Yankees, who are content to single an opponent into submission.

The Twins, dueling Chicago for second place in the American League, beat the White Sox 8-7 Friday night with four homers—including a pair in the ninth inning.

The Yankees bunched three singles in the ninth for a run that gave them a 2-1 victory over Detroit and pushed their lead to 13½ games—their biggest of the season.

Vic Power and Bob Allison socked the ninth-inning homers for the Twins, who boosted their season total to 200. Harmon Killebrew and Earl Battey connected earlier.

Hector Lopez, Elston Howard and Joe Pepitone rapped successive singles in the last of the ninth at New York, providing left-hander Whitey Ford with his 21st victory. The Yanks have been involved in seven straight one-run decisions, winning five of them.

At Washington, in the 100,000th major league game the Senators romped 7-2 over Cleveland, which also lost the first big league match 92 years ago.

The Baltimore Orioles swept Boston, winning the opener 6-4 on three-run homers by Jackie Brandt and pitcher Milt Pappas, and taking the second game 4-2 with single runs in their last three times at bat. The Los Angeles Angels edged Kansas City 4-3 when Albee Pearson was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded in the 14th inning.

Southpaw Hank Aguirre held the Yanks to three hits—including Harry Bright's homer in the fifth inning—before the tattoo of singles with one out in the ninth.

Dick McAuliffe's homer in the eighth was one of six hits off Ford, 21-7.

Dave Nicholson belted a grand slam homer in a six-run second inning for the White Sox, making it 6-4. After five scoreless innings Battey homered with two on in the eighth for a 7-6 Minnesota lead. Chicago drew even in its half of the inning on a bases-loaded walk to Joe Cunningham, but the homers by Power and Allison in the ninth offset the White Sox one-run rally in their last at-bat.

Bucs Snap Cards Streak At 9; Mets Nip Cincinnati Reds 5-4

By MIKE RATHE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals trying to overhaul the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers with a late stretch bid, have lost the services of batting leader Dick Groat, their first ball game in nine days and an opportunity to gain ground in the National League pennant race.

Groat, the league's leading hitter with a .328 average and a top candidate for Most Valuable Player honors, was lost for several games when he was plunked in the chest by a Don Cardwell pitch in the first inning of the opener of a two-nighter at Pittsburgh.

Nevertheless, the Cardinals went on to win the opener 5-1, extending their winning streak to nine games behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Gibson. Bob Veale stopped the Cardinals in the nightcap 5-0 on six hits for his first major league shutout.

The Cardinals fell 5½ games back of the Dodgers, 5-2 winners at San Francisco as Sandy Koufax gained his 22nd victory. Jim Gilliam paced the Los Angeles attack with a homer and two singles scoring four runs.

The game results shared the spotlight with the medical bulletins. Willie Mays made his return from an exhaustion-enforced four-day layoff and responded with a homer and double for the Giants. Groat was reported to have a contusion of the lower chest wall, and Cincinnati's Frank Robinson may have been lost to the Reds for the remainder of the season with a spike wound on the left arm.

Robinson's biceps was pierced as New York second baseman Ron Hunt slid into second in the sixth inning of the Mets' 5-4 decision over the Reds.

Milwaukee took over third place from San Francisco as Bob Shaw three-hit Philadelphia 5-0 and Chicago's Cubs blanked Houston 3-0 behind Glen Hobbie and Lindy McDaniel.

The American League—leading New York Yankees edged Detroit 2-1, Minnesota outslugged the Chicago White Sox 9-8, Washington belted Cleveland 7-2, the Los Angeles Angels nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 11 innings and Baltimore swept Boston 6-4 and 4-2.

Gibson brought his record to 16-8 and drove in the two runs with a single in the second inning. Koufax, 22-5 was tagged for nine hits and needed Ron Perra-noski's ninth-inning help to subdue the Giants. Frank Howard scored the only run other than those by Gilliam on a homer in the sixth inning. Howard and Gilliam each connected against Giants' starter Billy O'Dell, 12-7, with the bases empty.

New Orleans and Griffin Bell of Atlanta. They rejected a suit filed by six white parents, backed by Wallace.

School officials in Huntsville planned to start the fall term Monday. School board attorney Joe Payne said Wallace had promised not to interfere.

Indications were that two Negroes would enter a white school in Mobile next week. State troopers were poured into the port city by Wallace but the Negroes did not show up Friday as scheduled.

Defied by school officials in Huntsville and Tuskegee, where troopers closed a school, Wallace came under fire Friday from several directions.

Parents at Huntsville schools voiced resentment and about 25 mothers marched through a line of troopers at one school to register their children.

Three of the five city councilmen at Huntsville adopted a resolution condemning Wallace's actions.

Miss America

became Miss America of 1961. Winning the preliminary events does not necessarily mean a contestant will become Miss America, or does it guarantee a place in the semifinals.

Points were earned by the contestants in swimsuit, talent and evening gown competition during the past three nights. Those points will be used by 11 judges to select the 10 semifinalists for tonight's competition.

Results of the evening gown competition have been kept secret as have names of the girls who finished second, third, fourth and fifth in all the categories.

Points also were awarded for personality and poise during breakfast meetings with the judges.

When all the points are totaled tonight, 10 semifinalists will remain from the 52 contestants representing all the states, the District of Columbia and New York City.

All previous points earned will be discarded and the semifinalists will compete again in the swimsuit, evening gown and talent divisions.

The judges will select five finalists, one of whom will succeed lovely Jacqueline Mayer of Sandusky, Ohio.

About midnight, one of the girls will walk the 100-foot convention hall ramp, to the strains of "There She Goes, Miss America," into a Cinderella world worth a $10,000 scholarship and an estimated $75,000 personal - appearance contract.

Queen

practice so the bandsmen were ready with the right one when announcement of Jackie's victory was made.

Miss Tilley, 16, a senior, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Tilley was attired in a royal blue velvet floor-length gown for the crowning. Just 25 years ago, her sister, Evelyn, now Mrs. Joseph Fisher of Fisher Lane, with whom she makes her home, was named Salem football queen.

Her court last night was composed of Judy Pelley, Pat Coffman, Miti Garrett, Lois Whinnery, Nancy Houger and Judy Filler, all seniors.

Preceding and following the contest the band marched through Salem streets, displaying its marching and playing talents and also showing off the new scarlet and white uniforms of the nine drum majorettes.

Leading the group at drum major this season is high-strutting Joe Haller, a senior who put the musicians through their paces with apparent ease. Senior majorettes are Lois Domencetti and Elizabeth Heston. Bonnie Herron, Jeane Mack, Sally Minth and Diana Wallar represent the juniors as majorettes and sophomore twirlers are Ruth Godward, Polly Lease and Karen Schiller.

For the stadium festivities, the band marched on and off the field in a catchy, quick cadence and saluted the queen with its smooth version of "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." Included in the performance, of course was the Salem High alma mater.

Crowning the queen was Mrs. F. S. Barchhoff, who was Salem's third football queen.

THE BAND'S PERFORMANCE was the result of many hours of practice during the summer vacation and throughout the first week of school. Sophomores began practice Aug. 1 and juniors and seniors joined them Aug. 16. Since then they have been rehearsing several hours daily.

Composing the aggregation are 41 veterans and 36 new members, the largest number marching since the three-grade senior high went into effect.

The 11 senior members are Kathy Adams, Mark Albright, Kathy Kells, Janet Kuhl, Rosemary Sechler, Lee Schnell, Lois Whinnery, Sue Yates the majorettes and drum major.

The 29 juniors who perform in the group are Sandra Baird, Dennis Beery, Elizabeth Corso, Todd Duncan, Kenneth Dunn, Frank Floding, Mark Frost, Phyllis Greemeyer, David Hartough, Tim Hutson, David Kam-

Also performing with the band were ninth grade trombones Paul Fenema, Cheryl Hundertmarck, Charlotte Vaughan and Judy Zeigler.

GETTING IDEAS FOR the six home and four away games this season is not the most difficult part of presenting the programs, according to Richard Howenstine, director. Mechanics of putting the ideas into workable form present many problems, and working them out according to a music sequence can result in headaches for any director.

When one considers how difficult it must be to get 77 musicians taking the right number of steps in the right direction in the right time while also concentrating on playing the correct notes on their given instruments, it is little wonder that Howenstine considers this difficult.

As far as future programs are concerned, Howenstine has several ideas including more precision marching and several numbers featuring the majorettes one of which is a flag routine to the music of Leonard Bernstein's "Tonight."

At next week's game against Ravenna at Reilly Stadium, Mrs. Barbara Butler Greene, who wrote the school's alma mater 20 years ago this month, will dedicate the first copy of the composition.

With The Patients

James Kridler, 42, of RD 1, Leetonia, remains in poor condition at Salem City Hospital where he was admitted early Friday morning with head injuries, a possible cerebral concussion and multiple lacerations sustained in a highway accident at the intersection of Rts. 14 and 46 near Columbiana.

talkies to keep in touch with each other while they worked on a drug counter safe in the supermarket. One safe was cut open with a torch and another had the paneling removed from the rear.

Police said they took Dinsio into custody as he was seated in his car near the market, the radio receiver beside him.

Investigators went to the Big Bear store after burglars tripped an alarm. Dinsio was the only one apprehended, but officers said they were looking for several other men. The loss from the safe was undetermined.

Dinsio is under indictment in Hancock County W. Va., in connection with the theft of a old coin collection last March from Gene Costalas.

The Mahoning County grand jury last November indicted Dinsio and his three brothers, James, William and Vincent, on charges of receiving more than $20,000 worth of stolen property.
